NOVEMBER 12th – 2 Stars ★★ – Baby and Toddler Learning By Patricia Nan-Anderson

So much of your day with infants and toddlers is spent in feeding, diapering and putting children down for naps. In the little time you have for any sort of curriculum, what can you do?

In this workshop, you'll learn what experiences infants and toddlers need for optimal development and you'll discover ways to incorporate these into both a stand-alone infant/toddler room and also in a mixed-age family childcare home. Find out how to feel positive about the program you deliver for these youngest children so that parents feel positive too.
